4.1 Reconciliation of Accounting Profit to Income Tax Expense and Income Tax Payable

Income tax expense, reported on the Company’s income statement, is calculated by multiplying accounting profit for the year, adjusted for non-temporary differences, by the relevant corporate tax rate (2017 – 30%).

Income tax payable, reported on the Company’s balance sheet, is calculated by multiplying accounting profit for the year, adjusted for both temporary and non-temporary differences, by the relevant corporate tax rate. Income tax payable represents the actual income tax payable to the Australian Tax Office (ATO).

4.5 Approach to Tax Strategy and Governance

Northern Star has adopted a Tax Risk Governance Framework. The Company considers that the Tax Corporate Governance Framework is an integral element in maintaining high standards of corporate responsibility and adhering to the principles of Northern Star's Code of Conduct. These principles are reflected in Northern Star's corporate governance standards and policies. The Company's strategy for managing tax risk is as follows:

- To ensure that tax risks are considered as a part of the overall commercial assessment of any transaction.
- To comply with all tax compliance obligations in a timely manner.
- To take a conservative approach to the assessment and management of tax risk with a view to always being considered by tax authorities as low or medium risk (within the Tax Risk Governance Framework).
- Not to participate in tax evasion or to facilitate the evasion of tax by a third party in any way.
- To maintain open and constructive relationships with all relevant tax authorities.
- To protect the reputation of the Company in relation to tax matters.
- To proactively engage and communicate regularly with the Board, the Audit and Risk Committee and others within the Company so as to adopt a "no surprises" approach to the management of tax risk.

The Company manages tax risk within an overall tax risk matrix approved by the Board of Directors. Tax risk reporting, evaluation, escalation and sign-off is clearly identified within the Framework along with the roles and responsibilities of the Company Officers.

A tax risk register will be maintained by the Company. Reporting and monitoring to the Board and Audit and Risk Committee of the updated risk register will occur at least annually. It is expected that the monitoring of the tax risk review process will be conducted as part of the internal audit review process, which will be performed by an independent tax consultancy firm.
